ABOUT
LEX FAMILIA INDIA

Lex Familia India is an endeavor to create a family of lawyers. Our vision is to create an alliance of senior practitioners and young legal minds. We strongly believe in "learning together and growing together".

With this idea of togetherness, we have associated with senior practitioners to share their learnings and experience with young legal minds. At LFI, we educate young lawyers in a fashion that is completely distinctive. Our primary aim is to equip budding lawyers and professionals with the necessary training equivalent to what is expected of them working in a law firm, all provided from a practical standpoint with practitioner's insight.

Breaking the stigma of approachability and the barrier between seniors and juniors, our goal is to fill the significant gap that exists between traditional learning outcome of students in college and the expectations of a law firm. Having trained quite a few associates ourselves, we understand the gap and with our sessions and mentorship programme, we tend to address the need of students and prepare them to be a law firm/corporate organization ready.

IMPORTANCE OF
Workshop in Capital Markets & Securities Law

In the recent past, India's capital markets have gained significant recognition on the global stage, attracting Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) and portfolio investments. This has resulted in increase in the number of initial public offerings by Indian companies including new age tech companies; and host of other offerings and fund-raising activities.

Law firms and teams have been hiring aggressively and there has been a major demand of well-trained young lawyers with the increased amount of work in the field of capital markets. It is expected that market will continue to grow and there will be more products which will be introduced by the regulator resulting in constant demand and opportunities for capital markets lawyers.

LFI's 'Capital Markets and Securities Law' workshop has been designed in such a manner that it will not only benefit a student in understanding theoretical concepts relating to capital markets and securities laws but also will give a detailed insight on practice and process of transactions involving capital markets. With this workshop and due to consistent association with the senior practitioners in the market for a long duration, students will get real exposure, sharp legal thinking and confidence to apply law like a pro.

Even during the workshop, meritorious and dedicated students may get an opportunity through our platform to secure placement opportunity in prestigious and renowned law firms and organisations.
